

I'm really not a baby, you know

It's been a glorious week!

It's a hoisting success

haven't considered it

Penny Lynn Ludwig, 22-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ludwig, 728 North Hanover street, seemingly doesn't consider herself fully qualified for Baby Week honors. She reviews her 22 months in pictures.

Mark Douglass Query, 729 North Charlotte street, appears to consider Baby Week the best week of his ten months. This son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglass D. Query would like Baby Week to come around more often—nothing like these honors when they hold a week for you!

Gail Monica Pollock, 226 Beech street, likes the idea of a week of honors after only eight months of living. A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Pollock, she'll be enjoying the honors of another Baby Week a year from now. At 20 months she'll qualify for her last Baby Week.

Penny Lee Barrett, 215 Johnson street, is nonchalant about Baby Week. The 16-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy L. Barrett, said in baby talk she's grateful to the officials who created Baby Week. She thinks her treatment has been good enough. They don't have to honor her.

TOWN SCORES BABY RECORD FOR TOT WEEK

1491 Infants Entered World In Past Year at Two Hospitals

MARCH HISTORIC MONTH. MEMORIAL TAKES HIGH

By ROBERT E. HOYER (Mercury Staff Writer)

Pottstown has reason to get a little hilarious about National Baby Week. A record number of births was recorded at the borough's two hospitals during the past year.

Pottstown is growing with the itch and yen of an adolescent. The town's population is growing, and the town is growing.

Baby Week, proclaimed across the Nation for the final week of April, has a special significance in Pottstown.

"It's true, not all infant arrivals at Pottstown and Memorial hospitals have taken residence in the borough, and it sure is good they haven't."

What a monstrous first grade this borough would have in 1950 if 1491 babies were added to Pottstown population in one year.

Pottstown hospital maternity ward claimed 857 babies during the year. Memorial maternity sheltered 634 babies, and just this past month delivered the jackpot with the second highest birth rate per month in hospital history.

IF MARCH in Memorial was a busy month for maternity over-seers, April has been a lean one.

From April 12 to April 18 there wasn't a customer at the Memorial. (Continued on Page Fifteen)

50 Vocational Pupils Take Survey Tour Of Neapco Company

More than 50 pupils in the vocational school at Pottstown Senior High school made a shop tour of a local plant yesterday afternoon.

Calvin J. Cressman, director of Vocational education, said that the pupils of the machine shop made a two-hour tour of the Neapco company's plant.

The purpose of the tour was to give the pupils some idea of what machine shop work is like, besides the part they see in their classrooms.

Accompanying the pupils, besides Cressman, were W. O. Smith and Maurice Borneman, machine shop teachers.

Carl Resler, official at the Neapco plant, made the arrangements for the tour.

OWNER PLEDGES TO ERECT FENCE ON POOL WALL

Businessman Promises To Help Reduce Dangers

Samuel H. Porter, owner of the property on which the big, low-walled pool at the end of North Penn street that was the scene of a near-drowning last week, said yesterday he would have a fence put atop the low wall.

The pool is below the water tank of Loomcraft-Frocks Incorporated. Frank "Buddy" Guest, 5-year-old son of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Guest, 276 North Hanover street, had to be pulled out by three friends after he fell into the deep water.

Porter, elderly Pottstown businessman, who leases the property to Loomcraft, said that a year ago, he had bought storm fencing, between 2 1/2 and 3 feet high, to be put on the wall.

He told a Pottstown man who does such work to put up the fence. Porter said, but so far, the man hasn't gotten around to doing it.

PORTER SAID that he would have the fencing put up soon, by another workman if the original one could not do it quickly enough.

The concrete retaining wall at the pool, used as a reservoir for the plant's water system, is about three feet high on the outside. There is a sign warning people away from the deep pool.

In addition to the complaint about the danger of children drowning in the pool, there was (Continued on Page Eleven)

Man Held for Jury On Charges Arising From Fatal Accident

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, April 28—Charged with involuntary manslaughter, Michael Kovich, 57, of Level road, Collegeville, RD. 2, was held for jury on charges arising from a fatal accident.

The young Norristown high school pupil, who lived with his parents at 24 North Schuylkill avenue, Jeffersonville, died April 21 at Montgomery hospital from injuries received two days previously when he was struck by an automobile operated by Kovich.

Kovich suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries as a result of being hit by the vehicle at Main street and Schuylkill avenue, Jeffersonville, while he was walking home from visiting a friend.

Kovich, an employee of the Alan Wood Steel company, Ivy Rock, is free under $2500 bail. In addition to the manslaughter charge, he is also being held for drunken driving.

CHIEF OF POLICE Ralph K. Harter, Wood Norristown township, was the only witness at the inquest since Kovich failed to testify on (Continued on Page Eleven)

FILLING THE TILL

Town May Receive $100,000 in Tax Cash

The borough stands a good chance of receiving close to $100,000 more in taxes this year than it did the past year.

The fact was brought out yesterday in a Mercury interview with Borough Assessor Horace Y. Seidel. The new tax money will come from two different sources.

First, from the big increases in the borough's real estate evaluations. Second, from the 2012 new tax on the basis of the 1947 tax census conducted by the teachers of the Pottstown school system—$54,855.

From the increase in real estate evaluations, the more than $55,000 above what was collected the past year may be collected this year.

Seidel pointed out that evaluations have increased this year by $870,555 over last year.

THE PAST year's real estate evaluation was $17,390,610. The new figure is $18,261,165. The difference between the two is $870,555.

The tax on real estate is 42 mills. That means the borough should collect $36,563 more from this source this year.

The big increase in real estate evaluations is due to an "equalization of assessments" project carried out by Seidel, and because of new construction.

Ex-Lodge Steward's Condition Called 'Good'

Louis Vanore, former steward at St. Gabriel's lodge, Stowe, is recovering from pneumonia in Memorial hospital. He was removed from an oxygen tent yesterday and was reported in "good" condition by a hospital spokesman last night.

The 37-year-old Vanore had been a State trooper and, during World War II was a captain in the Army Criminal Investigation division in Italy. Recently, he had been working for Jacobs Aircraft Engine company.

His home is at 350 East Race street, Stowe. He was hospitalized Tuesday afternoon.

Gay H. Brown to Be Principal Speaker At Local High School Commencement

This was announced yesterday by Stanley J. Davenport Jr., high school principal, who also listed major pre-commencement events.

Brown has spoken throughout the country at school and civic affairs. He is a senior partner in a New York law firm, was chief counsel for the New York Public Service commission for seven years and was grand master of the New York State Bar from 1946 to 1948.

The speaker has been active in Red Cross, Community Chest and school activities and is director of men's work for the New York State Council of Churches.

Warmth Bankrupts Old Man Winter

Pottstown residents who bet on good weather yesterday saw their stocks rising all day, along with the temperature.

After a shaky start, with clouds and a sprinkle of rain early in the morning, the mercury began a steady climb.

All day long it continued upward, from the chilly doldrums of the 40's at 6 a. m. to the pleasant 60's at 6 p. m.

FUND UNIT SETS COMMITTEE PLAN

12 Agencies to Be Divided Into 4 Groups Under New Plan

Pottstown's United Fund contributors should determine how their money will be spent.

With this slogan in mind, Elmer Jackson, the fund's budget and admissions chairman, has plotted a committee shakeup.

In a report which will be mailed to all agencies, Jackson wrote, "We did a good job last fall by raising $20,000 more than the individual drives did the preceding year. I believe a new fund-raising attitude is being developed on the part of the public as well as by the agency boards and staff members."

Vincent Fisher, fund executive secretary, explained, "The additional $20,000 was collected with less administrative costs and with just one staff."

Jackson said he wants the budget and admissions committee to function all during the year and in order to increase committee functions he wants to increase its membership.

THE COMMITTEE at present consists of 11 persons.

Jackson proposes the 12 Fund agencies be divided into four principal groups—Group I, family and child care agencies; Group II, recreation and character building agencies; Group III, recreation and character building agencies; non-building centered programs, and Group IV, health services and central services.

He continues, "For each of these four groups, I will ask one member of the budget and admissions committee to serve as chairman and I will invite at least 40 citizens to constitute four 'budget panels' with at (Continued on Page Fifteen)

WATER PROJECT TO BE LAUNCHED BY BOROUGH

Town to Attack Problem Of Low Pressure at Cost of $47,000

By NORMAND POIRIER (Mercury Staff Writer)

At a cost of about $47,000, residents in three sections of the borough will get some relief from low water pressure this summer.

That was the decision reached at yesterday's meeting of members of the water committee, Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden, and representatives of a Philadelphia firm that made a survey of the borough's water problems the past year.

The meeting was held to discuss with the consulting engineers the recommendations that they made in their lengthy report and printed in The Mercury the past week.

It was decided at the meeting to launch at $47,000 project immediately: the project would give some relief to the hundreds of families in the north, northwest and eastern areas of the borough who, during the past summer, went sometimes without any water at all from their faucets.

THE PROJECT will involve laying new pipes and improving the present pumping apparatus at two booster stations in the borough.

"The work will be started as soon as we can get delivery on materials," Gulden said yesterday.

That may be within the next week or ten days.

If so residents may not suffer through two months—July and August—of waterless days.

It'll take about two months to complete the job, Gulden pointed out yesterday.

The project will increase the pressure "to some extent" in the outlying areas, according to the borough manager.

"THE PROBLEM WON'T be completely solved but it should help conditions a lot."

Actually, according to the recommendations of the engineering firm of Albright and Friel, Philadelphia, the borough should spend somewhere around $328,950 in order to (Continued on Page Fifteen)

WORKERS SET TAXI WALKOUT

Sixteen drivers of the Hanley Taxi service, 128 High street, have threatened to walk off their jobs at 6 p. m. tomorrow unless they receive an increase in pay.

The 16 men signed a petition which was presented to Mrs. Florence Klink, company owner, yesterday. The company employs 18 drivers, three of which work full-time.

Drivers have threatened to leave their cabs at the changing of the shifts early tomorrow night because they say their hourly wage of 50 cents is "too low."

They have asked Mrs. Klink to make an offer before the Friday deadline.

DRIVER RICHARD Yergey who presented the petition to Mrs. Klink said, "She said she can't afford to pay us the extra money. We say we can't afford to work for the money we receive."

Mrs. Klink refused to comment on the threatened strike.

She asserted, "I know nothing about it. I tell you I know nothing about it. I have nothing to say."

Yergey said, "Our tips aren't near enough to raise our hourly rate to what it should be. We'd be lucky if we get 30 cents an hour in tips. Right after the war we got more in tips, but we don't make out as well now."

"Business isn't too bad. I would say it's average for this time of the year. I can't see why we can't get more money. Why a high school boy won't work for 60 cents an hour."

THE MOTHERS BAUGH, brothers, Charles C. and Robert, both drivers for the Hanley service, verified the petition.

Charles reported, "That's what we get—60 cents an hour. That isn't very much."

Yergey said, "We were promised a raise by the first of the year. We've been waiting for almost four months and we haven't received an offer."

"There was no amount mentioned. But Mrs. Klink did make us a promise."

Yergey, formerly a full-time driver and now a part-time employee, added, "I've been with the company for five years and during that time we've received no hourly boosts."

The three full-time drivers work 12 hours a day. Part-time work (Continued on Page Eleven)

The junior singles champ will be determined Saturday at 3 p. m. at the YMCA when semi-finalists Andrew Sackal, Neal Schwartz, Robert Weiser, James Boyer, Lichtman and Melvin Endy will battle it out.

OTHER PARTICIPANTS were J. Eidell, T. Moser, Charles Ulrich, Glenn Jacobs, Jack Smith, Ed Solesky, Lowry Burgess, Ronald Stranick, Thomas Drauschak, Robert Neff, Joel Eisner, Paul Feight, Leon Harbold, Frank Burgess and David Teitelbaum.

Group Seeks Ban On Discrimination

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Clarence Mitchell, Washington director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, asked today that Congress write into the Taft-Hartley law a ban "against unreasonable discrimination based on race."

Testifying before the Senate labor committee, he proposed an amendment to the law making it an unfair labor practice for an employer or labor union "to discriminate against or segregate any member of the labor organization or any member of the craft or class of employees with respect to referrals for hiring, firing, upgrading, promotions, lay-offs" and other "purposes of the act."

Mitchell said "only a few unions have outright prohibitions against the admission of colored members" but that "many of them exclude colored members in certain localities as a matter of practice."

Merger Must Come

SCHOOL officials of the Pottsgroves, West, Lower and Upper, were said to have been hot under the collar when they were told by State Department of Instruction spokesmen their future laid in consolidation with Pottstown.

They were shocked by the suddenness of the decision, although Harrisburg said they had directives many months before that the State would sanction no aid for additional school facilities in the townships.

The school boards in Stowe, Sanatoga and Upper Pottsgrove could build more schools AT THEIR OWN EXPENSE. But the State wouldn't aid such construction because they felt Pottstown's schoolrooms might be emptied by ambitious rural building.

It probably was a shock to the rural school directors. They are intensely loyal to their districts. They have shied away from becoming subservient to Pottstown.

But the foresighted school official cannot help but feel that Pottstown is the logical hub for the populous Upper Montgomery district. The provident citizens must recognize the great waste in building huge school monuments in small districts, for the drain on the taxpayer is terrific.

Further, the smaller districts cannot compete with the larger in getting the best teachers, for they cannot pay the same as the richer districts.

It's all right to be loyal to the town and to shout "We'll never become a part of Pottstown." That's fine spirit. But taxes are becoming so intolerable that visionary public officials must look for ways to save public money.

One of these ways is to consolidate schools. The advantages are many to both school district and to the citizens. Children are educated more completely when the best of teachers supervise their work. Teachers can specialize; they needn't teach more than one grade. Children can obtain specialized training, too.

The time is coming, and coming fast, when communities contiguous to Pottstown will consolidate with this borough to make up the largest political subdivision in Montgomery county.

While the trend now is erect barriers against such mergers by passing laws or changing township status, the foresighted citizen must know consolidation will come soon. It'll come because the smaller communities around Pottstown will need "city" service, such as water, lights, police protection—and then bigger and better schools. Sanatogans and Stoweites are to be congratulated for being fiercely loyal to their home towns. But when the burden of taxation becomes so great that the load can't be carried, relief must be sought.

There's Street Relief

HARDLEY a day goes by that some fretting, fuming Pottsonian does not vent his spleen on Pottstown's poor streets. He telephones The Mercury. He writes sarcastic letters. He telephones his councilman. He calls up borough hall.

Yet there is relief for him right on the borough books. All he need do is to petition council to pave his street. He can ask his neighbors to sign requests to new streets built. The borough will do it.

Of course, the property owner will pay one-third the cost of construction, and there's where the rub lies.

Too many persons still are laboring under the delusion that this still is the "give-away" era. It isn't. Washington gave so much away that present-day taxpayers will never be relieved of the burden. The borough of Pottstown gave too much away years ago that today the average resident is complaining that taxes are too high.

Taxes won't come down if citizens still want everything for free. Where will the borough get the money? Citizens have no solution to that problem. All they know that they want everything for nothing. That's an impossibility.

Sad in this situation is the case where a civic-minded property owner wanted a new street in front of his house. He approached his neighbors. His reception was brutal. They wanted to run him off the street because he was "crazy" enough to want to help pay for a street.

What sort of philosophy is this? What does the housewife say who can't open her windows for dust? What does the motorist say to the cracked springs he's getting?

READERS SAY:

Let's Avoid Giant-Size Schools

Opposed to Consolidation
To the Editor: I do not agree with "Foresight" ("School Jointure Urged," Readers Say, April 28) who wants Pottstown and West, Upper and Lower Pottsgrove all to have the same high school.

There is, I know, a big trend to have consolidated high schools. These are, I am sure, improvements on tiny, under-staffed high schools but I do not think they are the final answer.

The large, economy size of education is all right up to a point. But I do not think a high school should take in as much territory as "Foresight" proposes.

This section is growing rapidly. If we had only one high school, it would soon be a giant, like some of the Philadelphia schools, where the boys and girls are given numbers to keep them straight.

We like to stay small enough to be individuals.

Merger With Pottstown Urged
To the Editor: What's the matter with Pottstown area school officials and directors?

How is it they weren't savvy on this jointure proposition for a number of months now.

The State has adopted a policy and if they opened their eyes and saw what is happening in other districts, they should understand what inevitably must happen in this area.

They all yap against jointure because they are afraid their traditionally choked constituents will kick them out of office. That's the trouble with all elected officials. They don't care what's good for the people. They just worry about perpetuating themselves in office.

This school jointure is a lot like the merger of communities for other functions.

There's no reason why West Pottsgrove and Lower Pottsgrove townships shouldn't be annexed to Pottstown. Then our clumsy council of 26 members would be forced to abandon the present system and establish Pottstown as a third class city.

It would become the only city in the county and maybe some day would steal the county seat away from Norristown, a slow apathetic community which has lost population in the last two Federal censuses.

The situation here is like Collegeville and Trappe where they were broad minded enough to form a joint school board, but where they maintain separate councils and where they count tradition above everything else.

Yes, Pottstown and the three Pottsgroves will become one administrative school unit. It won't be by choice either. They'll merge or the State will cut appropriations.

Too bad the State doesn't possess similar weapons to convince local governments to merge for the benefit of all concerned.

BETTER GOVERNMENT

Of Town Ain't What, Etc., Etc.

To the Editor: Seems like you folks in this here town ain't got much to talk about no more.

I remember the time . . . Oh, say along about 10 years ago when it was a pleasure to come visitin' folks hereabouts.

But now it's gettin' so's a feller don't even want to pass through no more.

Take for example your main street.

Have you called it High street?

Ten years ago it made ya feel good to walk up and down the street lookin' in at store things and such, but what ya got here today? Not much of anything as it seems like she's getting worse.

Let me tell ya what happened the other day when I came in to see my Aunt Emma.

I went walkin' up High street lookin' in at the tings all your store keepers got for sale. All of that was good, but when I got up near the end of the street, I come pretty close to fallin' over.

One of the most beautiful houses in the town was being tore'd down.

Some feller working there said they was gonna build a parking lot.

Well if that's all the folks in Pottstown think about their main street, then I reckon I'll never come back.

You can print that, if you like, Mr. Editor. I repeat, I ain't comin' back no more.

Sees Honky-Tonk Park

To the Editor: It was a shock to me when the news came out that Sunnybrook park is about to be turned into a honky-tonk carnival ground.

That's all it will be if they start putting in "rides" and such like.

I suppose the shooting galleries, "test your skill" devices, cotton candy and popcorn concessions, tattooing parlors and all the other customary boob-traps that go with a carnival will creep in once the trend starts.

What a shame to deface a lovely place like Sunnybrook with such claptrap. In the past it has been a place where you went to get away from the cheap vulgarity of most "amusement" parks.

Peace With Continued Prosperity Is Qualified

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, April 29—Although Secretary Humphrey's promise of peace without depression has provoked a universally encouraging reaction, the politico-economic optimists may discover that they have rejoiced prematurely. His guarantee was heavily qualified. It has no significance unless underwritten by Moscow.

The Humphrey assurance must be coupled with President Eisenhower's call for partial scrapping of the prospective belligerents' war machines and a program of practical and permanent disarmament.

Neither speech has any real meaning, unless they are read together. Both were given careful thought and preparation as the Administration's first formal pronouncements on the overshadowing problem of today and tomorrow.

As the President said in his inaugural address, there can be no solution of questions involving the public debt, Federal spending, the budget, taxes, prices and related economic issues, until the Russo-American conflict is resolved for better or worse.

NO SIGN OF TAX REDUCTIONS: In his speech to the newspaper editors at Washington, Eisenhower promised that a substantial percentage of the savings from a peaceful and partially disarmed universe would be contributed to a world development fund. It would supplant the various aid programs with which the United States now strengthens our allies and helps backward countries.

Although final figures must remain speculative, the return of relatively normal conditions should warrant a cut in our overall military outlay from the current $60 billion to $20 or $30 billion a year.

However, in view of the huge interest on the public debt, veterans' expenditures (they will increase as a result of the Korean police action), and normal costs of government operations, that would still leave an annual budget of between $50 billion and $60 billion. Such a figure would not permit a sharp reduction of taxes or gradual liquidation of the public debt.

DISARMAMENT ECONOMIES: These estimates may be subject to revision upward or downward by $5 billion or so, but they are approximately correct, according to government statisticians. However, the unknown and provocative factor generally disregarded is Ike's pledge to send a substantial percentage of any savings into overseas channels.

Assuming disarmament economies totaling $20 or $30 billion annually, it is a fair conclusion that one-third of this amount would be contributed to so-called world development. That would be only slightly more or less than the US has poured out annually since the end of World War II.

In other words, although GOP speakers assailed Truman prosperity as built on war and postwar expenditures, the new Administration plans to resort to the same method as a means of sustaining a high-level economy. Otherwise, the withdrawal of this artificial stimulant might result in a domestic depression.

Eisenhower's motives in making this offer are obvious. It is the sugar-coating that may persuade allies and enemies to look more favorably on the proposition. Nevertheless, this Republican safeguard against hard times does not differ in essentials from the foreign loans and grants and wartime expenditures responsible for our current, so-called prosperity.

Big City Pipeline

HARRY TRUMAN'S closest chums in the East appear certain he'll be a "Mr. Chips" this Fall—teaching American history at Missouri University. A film star currently in Europe had better come back quickly and quell the rumors. Out in Hollywood, they're spreading the story that she's hiding abroad because of a face lift that failed.

George Sanders is threatening to flatten Portino Rubirosa (Doris Duke's ex) for allegedly being too charming to Zsa Zsa. Ah, that set!

Top brass at a high school in Manhattan are trying to hush the story of the arrest of one of their students on a prostitution charge. She was making her dates in a soda fountain across the street from the school. Vivien Leigh's best friends aren't too warm towards Laurence Olivier any more.

The experts around Lindy are sharply divided on the Milton Berle situation. Half of them think Millicent will take the big gamble at the hottest betting town in the country—Las Vegas—some time this Summer. But the other half believes he still carries a sneaky little torch for Joyce Mathews and isn't in a hurry to marry anyone.

Does Alex Segal, director of the "Aldrich Family" on TV really bar the writers of the show from dress rehearsals and broadcasts? Are Anna Sosenko and Hildegarde breaking up one of the most successful of all show business talent-manager combinations after all these years—and is it significant that Anna recently took over the staging of Dorothy Sarnoff's act?

ARTHUR BROWN is back at the Stork club for the umpteenth time. (That place and that chap have had the longest romance in history!) A comparatively small publishing company, Crown, is apt to jump into the major leagues with a new novel—"Pablo's Mountain," by Albert Johnson. Those who've read the galleys say it should be a best seller within three weeks of publication.

The Worry Clinic
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

HELENE H. is a mother of three little girls.

"Dr. Crane, I have read your column for several years and usually agree with your advice," she announced at the opening of our interview.

"But you have constantly urged parents to send their children to Sunday school!"

"And I disagree with that, for I have seen too many hypocrites in the church."

"Twice after we began reading your column, my husband and I started to attend church, but we never went very long for we always found hypocrites there."

"So why do you insist that children be brought up in the Sunday school?"

HELENE'S ATTITUDE is very illogical. It would be like damning a scalpel when an incompetent surgeon accidentally cuts a vital artery or nerve with it.

Actually, the scalpel is not at fault. Nor are the ten Commandments or the Golden Rule to blame when people fail to use them correctly.

The church is an ethical "school" where children should learn morality and unselfishness.

There are probably some hypocrites in every church, and even among the clergy. But religion contains fundamental truths in the field of ethics, just as mathematics includes similar truths in that realm.

Wouldn't Helene be foolish if she refused to use the multiplication tables just because some arithmetic teacher made a few mistakes on the blackboard?

A PERSONAL ERROR by a professor does not invalidate the science which he is paid to teach! So Helene must learn to be logical.

Similarly, a mistake by a clergyman or a parishioner, does not invalidate the basic merit in the Golden Rule or the good samaritan policy.

The Sunday schools are conducted by men and women who generously donate their time to help encourage idealism and unselfishness in your youngsters.

These teachers may arise on sub-zero, blizzardy mornings, when most people prefer to lie abed. They study and play the lessons for the benefit of youngsters.

I've taught a Sunday school class for over 30 years; and been absent only three times, despite Chicago blizzards.

BEYOND THE HORIZON

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, April 29—Donald O'Connor would have to be three people or a nervous wreck to be at most places with half the number of dolls he's phony reported dating.

Same goes for Lex Barker regarding all the producing plans he's personally supposed to have, or assignments he has "signed" (?) recently. However, Lex might do "South of Sahara" for United Artists (he's in French Morocco).

Before Summer ends, Deborah Kerr's spouse, Tony Bartley, is the producer. When Herb Shriner got a squirt of the villain in "House of Wax" dipping a victim in boiling wax before exhibiting him in a museum, Herb yelled, "Man—looks that crazy candle!"

Another 3-D joke concerns the usher who raced down a theater aisle to eject an unruly spectator; then discovered he was the star of the picture!

PEGGY HOPKINS JOYCE, long pegged as romances in this pillar, may wed when they meet in Europe next month.

A "star is born" mumble: A "young, fresh-in-material comic, who aside from delivering patter and jokes is a musician of versatility with drums, sax, piano and trumpet, opened at Larry Potter's Supper club in "the valley" last night. His name is Paul Gilbert—and if he's ever had any mention, we haven't read it nor have we seen him. But today his name is on many Hollywood lips—the kind that count. Two TV execs who caught his opening act are frantic to sign him. And Paul is being, screen-tested.

Remember his name: 2—She was born in Los Angeles on Nov. 28, 1925. She was in numerous stage plays, and made her screen debut in "Blonde Fever" in 1944. Since then she has made "It Happened in Brooklyn," "Crosstime," "Morton of the Movies," "Rough Shod," "Long Denial," "Macao," "The Greatest Show on Earth," "Sudden Fear," and "The Bad and the Beautiful" (which won her an Oscar). ## ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Love for Puppies . . . Back from Coast . . .

* NINE PUPS, 270 MINUTES—Mrs. Charles L. Fitz, North Price street, reported that yesterday morning she was so stiff she could hardly walk. The stiffness resulted from her spending 4 1/2 hours sleeping in the basement Tuesday, helping her pedigreed collie dog have nine puppies. Mrs. Fitz had to help in the actual delivery of two pups, had to blow into the mouth of one to get it started breathing after delivery and had to keep moving the head of another one to get it to show the first signs of life. All nine puppies lived, which is rather unusual for large litters of dogs. . . . Can you think of a longer word than revive that's spelled the same backward as forward?

ON COAST—Dr. Wallace L. Davidson, of Perkiomenville RD, formerly of Pottstown where he was associated with Dr. Caesar Sarni, 223 King street, has returned from Los Angeles, Calif., where he attended sessions sponsored by the American Medical association. More than 2000 doctors were in attendance at the convention which continued for a week. Dr. Davidson represented the Sharpe and Dahme company. He is connected with the industrial medicine department of this concern which recently merged with the Merck corporation.

* RETURNER—Samuel Daub, the High street restaurateur, was worried a few weeks back when that crack Atlantic coast train was wrecked in South Carolina. He feared his aunt, Bessie D. Storb, of 17 North Hanover street, might have been on it, because she returns about this time of year from Wintering in Florida. Daub was relieved to learn that his aunt hadn't taken that train. She is returning to Pottstown today after sojourning at Winter Park. . . . Startling statistic. Despite all the skyscrapers in New York, the average height of buildings there is only five stories. Wonder how Pottstown would come out in a deal like that.

SOLDIER—Pvt. Joseph E. Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hunter, 79 North Mt. Vernon street, will complete his basic Army training at the quartermaster replacement training center at Ft. Lee, Va. Hunter was inducted into the Army February 17. He's a Pottstown High graduate. . . . Don't know whether it'll make you feel any better, but one of the very few creatures, outside of humans, that blush is an octopus. Not for the same reasons, though. An octopus is very seldom embarrassed. Descriptive slang term has been developed for one of those lane-switching automobiles, with a driver that dips in and out of traffic channels. It's called a yo-yo.

* NO MISTAKE—You can't mistake a Wednesday afternoon in Pottstown. It's the time when the Mill school boys have freedom of the town. So they flock to the main store stores to stock up on goodies, sweets, reading matter, records and what not. . . . The Mercury had a Reading visitor yesterday. Said his wife sent him out for some groceries so he thought he'd ride down to Pottstown to say "hello." Which reminded the column of a jeweler friend in Allenstown. One day his wife sent him to the former store for a loaf of bread. He was gone for seven years! Made it all the way to California, spent some time with a carnival, visited the Spring baseball training camps in Florida, and was just as free as a bird. But he came home with a loaf of bread! . . . GIVE AWAY, DEP'T—Two-year-old dog, Mrs. Anna Green, 612 North Price street, phone 5288-W.

Dutch Players Plan Stage Productions For Summer Months

The Dutch Country players have just celebrated their first anniversary at their playhouse on Route 542 between Summerville and Tylersport.

The players are a cooperative venture of a group of about sixty members who have remodeled an old auction barn by their own efforts.

During the year only one play, "Apple of My Eye" was produced because of the amount of time required to make the building suitable as a theater, and in winter the possibility of snow and sleet was a deterrent, although heaters have been installed.

The past week a three-act comedy, "Penny Wise" was shown to a capacity audience for two nights and will be repeated by popular demand this Saturday evening.

PLAYS ARE NOT GIVEN IN PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH DIALECT. The name was chosen because members live in the Upper Merion valley where the majority speaks Pennsylvania Dutch. The players are a diversified group including artists, writers, some former professional actors and many amateur actors.

The Dutch Country players plan to produce a new show every month during the summer.

The plays in rehearsal are "The Night of January 16th" and "Craig's Wife"; the former will be given at the end of May and the latter in late June or early July.

Nearly 200 physicians were on duty at US Bureau of Indian Affairs hospitals and dispensaries in 1962.

CHURCH HOLDS RECEPTION FOR NEW MEMBERS

100 Attend Covered Dish Supper Conducted At Brownback's

RIDGE ROAD—The McDonald, del. Phone Eagle 5-2213.

More than 100 persons attended a reception at Brownback's church. The affair was given in honor of the new members of the church. Eighteen joined during the past year.

A covered dish supper was served with Mrs. Ethel Shantz in charge of arrangements.

Those assisting in the preparation of the meal included Laura Holman, Mrs. J. Harvey Miller, Lizze Detwiler, Ruth Detwiler, Genevieve Snyder, Mrs. Robert Caldwell, Mrs. William Pedler, Mrs. Harvey Berkey and Mrs. Earl Wheatley. Marlene Berkey, Joan And and Kitty Caldwell helped to serve the meal.

Following the meal those attending went to the church auditorium where a program was held. A quartet including Mrs. Lee Brungess, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wheatley and the Rev. Elmer E. Fahringer sang two selections. There was a roll call of new members and two selections on the sheep bells were played by Mrs. Lillian Abernethy.

THE SPEAKER of the evening was the Rev. Ralph Jones, pastor of the Church of the Brethren, Hatfield. He had as his subject "The Meaning and Value of Church Membership." He was introduced by Elder Enos Keeley, who presented Mr. Jones as his life-long friend. The evening closed with the singing of the fellowship hymn "Blest Be the Tie that Binds."

Several men who are members of Brownback's church attended the dinner meeting sponsored by the Brotherhood of the Hungarian Evangelical and Reformed church, Phoenixville.

The group included William Krug, Leroy Seffey, Harry Yeager, Earl Howe, Frank Miller, Milton Mowrer, Earl Wheatley and the Rev. Elmer E. Fahringer. Brownback's church received the award for having the largest attendance. The prize was a motto upon which is inscribed a Bible verse in Hungarian.

Altar flowers, Brownback's church, were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Huston honoring the memory of Clayton Fager, father of Mrs. Huston.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By LARRY DAVIS

GERALD (DEITCH) Reichelderfer and Frank (Bud) Becker have been good friends for nearly 20 years. But the pattern of their careers was vastly different, except in one respect.

The two Pottstown men, one an athlete and later a prison guard, the other a musician and commercial artist, all their lives had fancied themselves as owners and operators of their own restaurant.

Since 1946 their long-time dream has been a growing reality based on their own hard work, the support they received from their wives, and the faith they had that success would be theirs if they only didn't give up.

For the past year, the restaurant that took in only 20 cents the first day it opened has had the nod of approval from the internationally known gourmet, Duncan Hines.

Reichelderfer and Becker went twice around Robin Hood's barn before teaming up in a four-way partnership that included their hard-working wives. Each took a different path.

They had one thing in common: both were born in Pottstown. But at that point they were as different as two opposing politicians.

Reichelderfer was born on June 20, 1903, the son of George W. and Belle Elizabeth (Filman) Reichelderfer, who presently live at 850 North Evans street. His father is a retired maintenance mechanic.

Most historians of Pottstown sportsdom count the well-built, ruddy-faced restaurateur as the outstanding athlete ever to come out of Pottstown High school.

There, where he took a college preparatory course with an eye on a future career in athletics, Reichelderfer turned in a remarkable record. For four years he won his varsity letter in the big three of sports: playing third base in baseball, forward in basketball and fullback in football. The 1921 basketball team on which he played in his Senior year has been adjudged the best ever produced locally.

At Wrentham Military academy in Wrentham, N. J. (since out of business), Reichelderfer continued to star in the men in the press box with his abilities in the "gate" sports. And in 1923, he was proclaimed the best prep school and high school forward in basketball in the entire East during the annual University of Pennsylvania interscholastic tournament.

His versatility was unique. No regular pitcher; Reichelderfer was called to the mound to hurl against Bordentown Military academy in May, 1923, and to his own surprise turned in a no-hit, no-run exhibition.

A year at Bucknell university followed, where he starred in basketball and football. Two more years at Pennsylvania Military academy and again he was letterman in the "big three."

In 1926, he quit the amateurs and turned "pro," playing football for Atlantic City, N. J., Rock Island, Ill., and Mt. Carmel, Pa., as halfback and fullback. During the Summers, he played professional baseball with Shamokin and Williamsport.

An injury to his right shoulder knocked him out of baseball, but didn't effect his playing ability on the gridiron. But by 1931, with the depression at its height, professional athletics didn't offer much in the way of security.

Reichelderfer then joined the square force of the Graterford branch of the Eastern State penitentiary where he remained until he enlisted in the Army's Criminal Investigation division as a commissioned officer. He served in North Africa, India and Burma and was separated in 1946.

Becker's story has a different coloring. He was born on March 30, 1914, a son of Frank and Alice (Sabold) Becker. His father has a barber shop at 143 King street.

Becker attended St. Aloysius Parochial school and studied the commercial course through the Tenth grade before he enrolled at the Pennsylvania Industrial Art school in Philadelphia.

After two years, however, the depression caught up with him, and in 1929, he was obliged to withdraw.

In the meantime, he had learned to play the saxophone with no little mean ability, and with a ten-piece orchestra and a vocalist, he established a favorable reputation in night spots and clubs in this area.

Those were the days when musicians played all night for two dollars each. And didn't complain.

Sometimes, Becker put his aggregation on the bandstand with an agreement that he would split 60-40 with the proprietor.

"Since I didn't have to bother reading the music," he recalls, "I was able to keep one eye on the till to make sure we got the right cut."

Becker also opened his commercial art studio, a "hole in the wall on Chestnut street." So between his music and the art work which came his way, he was able to keep body and soul in one piece. In 1938, he gave up his studio and joined a local clothing store as show card writer until 1940.

A stint at a retail chain store and a period doing original furniture drawings for a furniture outlet followed before he joined the sign shop of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company in the mid-'40's.

Reichelderfer had married the former Mary Elizabeth Butterfield, a nurse, on Nov. 25, 1934, while Becker had wed the former Doris Custer on July 1, 1933.

When the couples got together, they frequently talked of their common desire to go into the restaurant business.

But it wasn't until 1946 that each couple, with a little nest egg on hand, decided that time had come.

They purchased the Lakeside inn property amid dire predictions of failure, and despite the sudden disappearance of their capital into the down payment, made their plans.

Reichelderfer and Mrs. Becker quit their jobs to devote their time to the inn. Becker remained at Firestone while Mrs. Reichelderfer stayed with New England Auto Products company as nurse. This was a "security" move the partners agreed upon as a temporary measure only.

On Aug. 1, 1946, with the "For Sale" sign repainted "Open For Business," the four waited for customers. Fifty seats were available in four dining rooms. At lunch time, one customer, a woman pedestrian, came in to dine on a ham sandwich. That was the day's business.

Since then, by observing what people prefer, they have been expanding. The tiny kitchen now has three teams of cooks, two huge walk-in refrigerators, a walk-in deep freezer, electric dishwashers with a 4500 dishes per hour capacity, and its own bake shop.

Both men attribute their success not to their own efforts, but to the long hours put in by their wives during the first two years when there was never an extra nickle in the cash register. And some credit goes, too, to the employees who joined the staff in the inn's beginning and who have remained.

The past year, the partners added to the building a 50 by 40-foot section designed by Becker on the back of an envelope.

Becker is the buyer and until recently the meat cutter. He remains largely behind the scenes. Reichelderfer is the "front" man, supervising the bar activity. Both share equally in personnel policy which is rigid.

While 125 pack members and friends clutched skis and sat on grass skirts they had made for the Pacific Isle theme meeting, a guest speaker told them of bear hunting in the Yukon country.

Ralph Levitz was the speaker. He showed colored slides of the wild north country to illustrate his talk.

DENS 2 AND 4 were in charge of the Hawaiian section of the program. They put on the entertainment under supervision of Assistant Cubmaster George Briner. Robert C. ## Meeting Cancellation Hails Jaycee Plans For Clean-Up Week

Because of the cancellation of last night's meeting, the Junior Chamber of Commerce announced that no definite program has been drawn up for Clean-Up Week, May 17 through May 23.

Chairman Harold Eschbach

Both patients were discharged after treatment.

reported that members of his group were to meet with borough officials last night in the Chamber of Commerce office in the Security Trust building to map plans for the clean-up program.

He explained that last minute appointments by members of both groups caused the cancellation. He noted that another meeting has been scheduled for next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Jaycee Co-Chairman Linford Richard pointed out that although Clean-Up Week is a community project it is sponsored by the Jaycees through the co-operation of borough officials.

Pocket Sized Books Used For Junior Reading Club

By ELLIOTT LICHTMAN

A new chance to improve your reading has been introduced in the forming of teen-age book clubs. This Junior High school idea is from the "Junior Scholastic" of Mabel Royer's geography class.

Costing 25 to 35 cents, these pocket size books enable the pupil to improve his reading ability.

These books can also be used as references since there is a great variety of them from animal stories and sport to science fiction stories.

Spring Is in Bloom As Boys Talk About Playing Baseball

By PATSY BRENNINGER and MARGARET DANIELS

Spring has really started to bloom at the Junior High school. Not only flowers and trees have put on a new face, but the school's attitude has changed. Everyone, including the teachers, has felt the touch of Spring fever, at least once. Glances outside of school windows prove that pupils long for the great outdoors and adventures in the sweet Spring air.

In boys' language the main topic of interest is the organizing of new baseball teams, quarrels over who will win the world series, and who is the best pitcher and catcher.

When teachers and boys talk about baseball, they are really only discussing new Spring outfits worn by different friends. Most girls' thoughts about baseball are usually very vague and uninteresting.

Ninth Grade Class Holds Story Session

By JANET BRESSLER and THEODORA GOVATOS

Ninth grade English class 304 has been having a short story program for the past week under their teacher, John Koury. The program began with O'Henry's "The Retrieved Reformation," followed by a discussion of the story and a short quiz.

To be read in the future are "The Sire De Maletroit's Door," "The Third Ingredient," "Gulliver," "The Great," and "Barbed Wire" by Robert Louis Stevenson.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

Mercury Staff Photo

Although Forrest Haas did most of the work himself in building this home of his and his wife's at 1 East Sixth street, he didn't spare the horses when it came to including extra features. A carpenter erected the basic framework, then Haas took over. His work included putting on the artificial brick facing. In the basement, he built a recreation room. The lattice for the porch, which in summer will be covered with roses, is his. He put two walls full of cabinets in the kitchen and built a big cedar closet upstairs. Downstairs with the kitchen are the living room, master bedroom (Mrs. Haas was spring-cleaning there when the photo was taken), smaller bedroom and bath. Upstairs are a bedroom and an unfinished room. Haas is a coremaker for Stanley G. Flagg and company. This was his first time for house building.

What is mow hay-curing?

Answer: It is curing partially field-dried hay in the barn by forcing air through it.

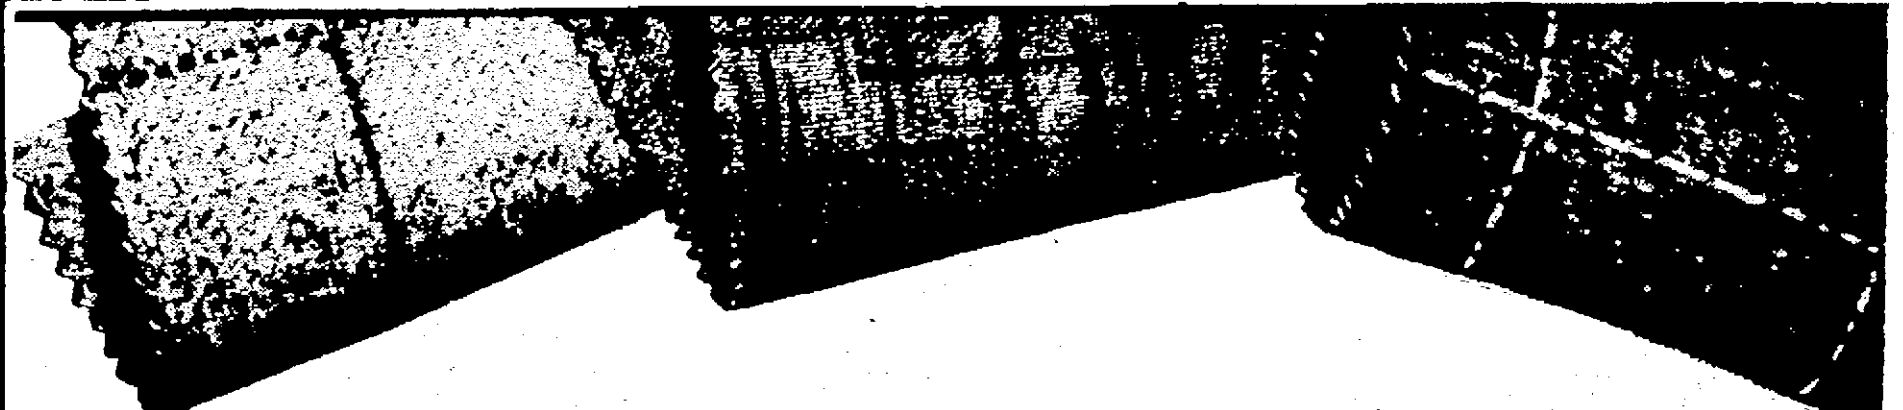

Hay is cured by forcing large quantities of air through mow at low pressure. Pressure gauge in this picture indicates "loading" of mow.

Farmers find that mow-curing helps improve hay quality, thus saving on expensive supplements necessary to maintain heavy milk production. It avoids losses due to bad weather by reducing field-drying time and helps prevent loss from "mow burning" and spontaneous combustion.

Mow-curing systems should be planned to suit particular requirements. Your harvesting methods, your barn, your hay crop, whether you want to dry grains, and whether the hay-drying fan will be used for winter ventilation should be considered.

One of our farm representatives will help you plan... at no charge... mow hay-curing, or any other farm operation using electricity.

BOMB WITNESS BROWN TO SPEAK — TO GIVE TALK

Aircraft Group to Hear Woman Speak on Atom Blast

An eye-witness account of the recent atomic explosion in Nevada will be given at the meeting of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots association tonight.

Mrs. Marguerite Von Osman, executive director, Berks county civil defense, will be the speaker at the 6:30 o'clock dinner meeting at Lakeside Inn.

Mrs. Von Osman was one of the civil defense officials invited to witness the awesome explosion at the Yucca Flats proving ground.

She was also one of the few women who were allowed to watch the phenomenon.

ALVIN E. RENNINGER, chairman of the club who is in charge of the program, will also present another speaker—Lt. Col. Alfred "Abbie" Wolf, general counsel and secretary of the National AOPA, who will tell of flying experiences in Europe.

Colonel Wolf recently completed a tour of duty with the US Air Force as a staff member of the Judge Advocate General's office on the Continent.

A film titled "Educated Hands" will complete the program. It will show the 1950 auto races at Indianapolis and the air races at Cleveland of the same year.

The time of the club's next breakfast flight will be announced at tonight's meeting. This will be the last indoor meeting until next October, the chairman announced.

WARM DAY —

looked rosy for investors in "Summer stock." Old Man Winter and company, on the other hand, appeared practically bankrupt.

Mid-town merchants stood in the doorways of their establishments and noted the warming atmosphere with deep satisfaction then turned back to arrange tempting displays of Summer clothing, porch furniture and lawn and garden tools.

Office and plant workers carried their coats on their arms as they sauntered home in the late sunlight.

Children frolicked on tender Spring lawns, fragrant with recent clippings until mothers called them in to supper.

Today will again be pleasant, though cloudy, with temperatures in the low 70's, but there may be showers tonight.

It will be warm again tomorrow and perhaps windy over the weekend.

Some 38,000 U.S. Indian children are enrolled in government-operated schools.

Town May Get More in Taxes

MARY A. (GRAMM) KEELEY, wife of Horace Keeley, SPRING CITY RD., died last night at 7:55 o'clock at her late residence. She was 77.

She had been in failing health for two years and bedfast for the past five days.

Born in East Coventry township, she was a lifelong resident of that township, and had lived for 24 years at her late address.

She was the last of a family of eight.

Mrs. Keeley was a member of Brownback's Reformed church and the Ladies aid society of the church.

She and her husband had recently celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary.

Surviving are her husband; six children, Irvin R., Spring City RD.; Paul R., Spring City RD.; Erma Viola, wife of Frank R. Schaefer, Oak Lane road, Melrose park; William H., Spring City RD.; Mary Hazel, wife of Chester Kimes, at home; and John L., Spring City RD.; and 13 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday at 2 p. m. from a funeral home at Parkerford. The Rev. Elmer Fahringer, pastor of Brownback's Reformed, and the Rev. Lloyd Sandt, pastor of Allentown Reformed church (and former pastor of Brownback's church) will officiate.

Interment will be made in Brownback's Reformed cemetery.

Services for WILLIAM CHES-TER COLLINS, son of Arthur E. Collins and Beatrice E. (West) Collins, 1233 SOUTH STREET, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 338 King street.

A fireman third class in the US Navy, he died in the Naval hospital, Portsmouth, Va.

Officiating at the services was the Rev. Edward S. Horn, pastor of St. James Lutheran church. Interment was made in Mt. Zion cemetery.

Bearers were Richard Neyhard, David J. Collins, W. Paul Collins, Ralph Crozier, Gene Brown and Michael Billett.

The body was escorted from Portsmouth by John Stanley Kozlosky, yeoman third class.

assessor since a year ago when the old system of one assessor for each ward was wiped out to make room for the present system, said there were many cases where real estate was assessed too low.

"In many cases I went around and increased the evaluations," he said.

"The other big source of increase was from new construction. Take all those new homes on West King street—about 122, I think—and all the new homes in the North end of town. A lot of the increase came from there."

Homes are assessed for about 20 percent of their sale value, he said. Industries are assessed at about the same rate.

THE SECOND source of new revenue stems from the new tax-able names turned up by the recent school census.

Breathing a sigh of relief, Seidel smiled, "We've finished checking up all the names."

The census turned up 2510 new names. (The Mercury, in an article on April 17, said that on the basis of results from checking the first five wards there would be "about 2500 new names added.")

"I was thinking about your figure, as a matter of fact," Seidel smiled, "when I reached the final tabulation."

OF THE 2510 new names turned up in the borough's ten wards, roughly 20 percent more people than were actually paying taxes—about 5 percent of them won't have to pay taxes, Seidel said.

"We expect that about 5 percent of these new persons will be exonerated for various reasons—too old, too poor, or financial problems. We've already excluded from this final figure a lot of people who have already asked to be exonerated."

With the 5 percent excluded from the 2510, the resultant figures have it that as a result of the census taken by the school teachers 2385 persons will be paying the borough $54,855 more in taxes this year than was paid the past year.

That figure is based on the average LOWEST tax rate paid by borough residents—$21.

MANY MORE persons pay a higher rate—higher than $25—than pay the lower rate, so the estimate is a conservative one.

Of each $23 paid in taxes, $15 goes to the school district and $8 to the borough.

Seidel said there were 92 addresses taken by the teachers which had to be double checked.

"Of these 92 addresses, we found out that 42 of the houses were vacant. The other 50 still have to be checked."

Seidel had been allowed expenditures up to $300 by the borough and school district to pay extra typists and office help to compile the results of the 170 teachers' house-to-house canvass.

But yesterday he revealed, happily, "That the whole thing just cost $173."

PRICE CUT ANNOUNCED NEW YORK, April 24 (AP)—American Viscose corporation announced it is cutting the price of rayon staple and low "to protect our customers against foreign competition."

Dear Trap Gets Goose Who Laid Vanishing Eggs

GLENDIVE, Mont., April 24 (AP)—Life for a goose who laid vanishing eggs ended in a bear trap.

John Oljar, owner of the goose, thought a skunk was stealing eggs from the bird's nest. He set a huge bear trap for the culprit with a bear's egg as bait.

The "culprit," having hidden her eggs, waddled back to the nest to pick up the bait. She stuck her neck out and that was that. Owner Oljar found one dead duck-er, goose.

In 1960 Canada had 57,866.6 miles of railway track.

Baboons Fail in Try To Take Over Land

LONDON, April 24 (AP)—Colonial Secretary Oliver Lyttelton said today the danger that baboons and wild pigs would take over administration of parts of the Gambia protectorate in Africa has been averted.

He told the House of Commons that up to the end of 1952 over 50,000 baboons, 26,000 destructive monkeys and 25,000 wild pigs had been killed in an effort to protect crops.

"I am happy to state," Lyttelton said, "that as a result of the Gambia Government's campaign for the destruction of baboons and other animal marauders, the danger of a change in the Administration has now been averted."

Allies Reject Asian Nations to Supervise Red Prisoners, Armistice Talks Show Little Progress After Fifth Session

PANMUNJOM, THURSDAY, April 30 (AP) The Allies today rejected any Asian nation as a neutral to supervise Communist prisoners of war who do not want to return to Red rule.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison Jr. said no Asiatic nation would be acceptable because all Asian countries "are located very close to countries dominated by Communists and might therefore be subjected to Communist military, economic or political influence."

The senior Allied negotiator made his position clear during a 51 minute truce session with the Communists in the conference hut. Both sides agreed to meet again tomorrow at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Pottstown time, Thursday).

Harrison called on the Communists to nominate a non-Asiatic nation as neutral supervisor at tomorrow's meeting.

"Since without agreement on such a neutral state it would be impossible to reach an armistice accord based on your original proposal," Harrison said. "We see no advantage in discussing seriously the other elements of your proposal until we have come at least to some measure of understanding on the neutral state."

Rear Admiral John C. Daniel said that Allied and Red liaison officers would meet at 10 a. m. tomorrow to discuss problems concerning the exchange of disabled captives.

DANIEL IS a member of the Allied truce team and head of the liaison officer group.

He did not say what the problems were. The Communists turned over 684 disabled UN war prisoners the past week and said that was all they had.

The UN command notified the Reds today it would return 254 Chinese and 250 North Koreans in Friday's delivery of sick and wounded prisoners.

Seventeen of the North Koreans will be civilians and 13 will be Communist officers.

THE DELIVERY tomorrow will raise the number of Reds sent back by the Allies to approximately 6000, almost 200 more than were promised.

The excess will be ailing Chinese since the Allies already have handed back the 700 Chinese they promised to return originally.

Four days of maneuvering in the first truce negotiations since Oct. 8 have shown little progress.

In Wednesday's 64-minute meeting, the Communists agreed to ease their demands for a 10-month questioning period in a foreign neutral country of all prisoners refusing to return home voluntarily.

The UN command opposed this as leading to "endless captivity" and said 60 days was long enough to determine the attitude of the prisoners. The Allies want the prisoners left in Korea pending settlement of their future.

Chinese Reds Shot, Bayoneted 800 On Death Convoy, Ex-POW Reveals

TOKYO, Thursday, April 30 (AP) — wounded. His convoy was trapped as it tried to reach the East coast. Released US prisoners, back in the sunshine of freedom more than a year, told new stories Wednesday of Red terror, of 800 helplessly wounded shot or bayoneted in a 40-truck convoy in 1950.

One prisoner said 300 Americans, out of 4000 to 5000 who started, died in a "death march" that same winter. The sick and laggards were clubbed with rifle butts and left on the road to die in the great cold.

Another returned American said that in the North Korean prison stockades some US prisoners went berserk under the propaganda dinning of loudspeakers and endless lectures.

Pfc. Tulley Cox, Altoona, Ala., who lost both his feet by frostbite, told of the massacre of the

Now TV Goes 3-D, Fresh Medium Gets West Coast Tryout

LOS ANGELES, April 29 (AP) — Television came up with three dimension pictures today in this heart of 3-D conscious movieland, but they appeared to offer little threat yet to the theater version.

A telecast in 3-D was made from the American Broadcasting company's station, KECA-TV, here and received on special-type sets that projected polarized images on a 3 by 4 foot screen. Viewers had to wear special glasses of the same type used for 3-D movies to get the illusion of depth.

Officials of ABC, a division of American Broadcasting Paramount Theaters, incorporated, emphasized the demonstration was merely to show the progress that had been made in 3-D, rather than to make a commercial.

Although impressive in its overall effect, the showing had its bad moments, like most early experimental demonstrations, and was hardly comparable to the full color, big-screen 3-D movies now making a big hit with the public throughout the country.

Ten Airmen Die as Flaming Bomber Plunges to Earth Near San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 29 (AP) — A B-29 carrying live ammunition on a practice combat flight caught fire and crashed six miles north of Randolph Air Force base near here today. Ten airmen were killed. Five others escaped by parachute. The wreckage burned.

A B-29 bomber normally has a crew of 11, but this one also carried instructors for the simulated combat run.

San Antonio police and air police from Randolph, the bomber's home base, warned spectators away from the scene with loudspeaker broadcasts that live ammunition was in the wreckage.

Authorities delayed making a statement as to the cause of the crash and withheld the names of the ten dead. The Randolph tower said it had received a call at 8:35 a. m. from the plane that it was on fire. No further word was received.

CHARLES SMITH Jr., 11, described the crash which he witnessed from one and one half miles away. He said one engine in the right wing was afire. As he watched the four-engined plane wobbled crazily, nosed down almost in a somersault and struck the earth. Smith said he saw only five parachutes open and float to earth.

Bodies of the ten were found in or near the wreckage.

The five survivors were Lt. T. R. Olson, co-pilot; Capt. A. H. Thomas, bombardier; Capt. R. F. Elliott, bombardier instructor; T/Sgt. R. D. Smith, flight engineer; T/Sgt. W. T. Looman, radio operator instructor. All five lived in San Antonio.

BLARING BANDS, HAPPY CROWDS GREET EX-POWS

Transport Carrying GI's Lands Amidst Roaring Welcome

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., April 29 (AP) — Thirty-five men freed by the Reds in Korea less than two weeks ago flew home today to freedom, blaring bands, cheering crowds, thick steaks and a bedlam of interviews.

SECOND GROUP SET

TOKYO, Thursday, April 30 (AP) — The second group from the 143 American sick and wounded freed the past week by the Reds is scheduled to start its homeward flight today.

The vanguard of 143 sick and ailing Americans freed by the Communists, arrived in a big transport plane to a joyous but wild scene at this air base north of San Francisco's Golden Gate.

Television and news cameras spotlighted the 26 walking patients and the nine litter cases as they came slowly down the ramp from the yawning door of the C-97.

At first all 35 waved aside any thought of questions. But later five of them agreed to a mass interview in the big auditorium of the Air Force Base hospital. Some 300 reporters, photographers, radio, TV and newspaper men struggled in a chaotic scene to get at them.

Almost lost in a wilderness of radio microphones, TV cameras and newsmen popping a barrage of questions, the five managed to piece together a story of a monotonous rice diet, inability to converse much with their captors, long boring months in camp where the only English reading was medical journals and laughable efforts by the Reds to "sell" the POWs to the Communist way of life.

"Keep praying for the guys over there still in Communist hands," said Pfc. Raymond H. Medina, Bronx, N. Y.

Eisenhower to State Defense Policy

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — The Truman for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

White House said today President Eisenhower will "make a major pronouncement on the defense of the United States and a program for that defense," at a news conference at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

This word was given to newsmen by James C. Hagerty, press secretary, who made clear in response to newsmen's questions that the President would disclose the Administration's long-awaited defense spending plans.

Hagerty said the President's statement will be made after morning conferences with Republican congressional leaders and with the National Security Council, the Government's top policy-making group on defense matters.

Eisenhower told his news conference the past week he is confident that defense spending can be cut, but he declined to estimate how much might be trimmed off the 46-billion-dollar defense budget recommended by former President

M'CARTHY FLAYS EDITOR'S STAND

Senator Says Newspapermen Not Immune to Probes By Senate

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) today told New York Post editor James Wechsler, with whom he is feuding, that he does not regard editors as a "privileged profession" immune from investigation.

McCarthy made public a telegram addressed to Wechsler as "Arthur Lawson, editor, New York Post." He told newsmen he thought it "appropriate" to use that name because "that was Wechsler's Young Communist League name" in the 1930's. Wechsler himself has said he renounced Communism in 1937 and has been actively opposing it.

McCarthy called Wechsler before his Senate investigating subcommittee for questioning Friday, a move which Wechsler assailed as "attempts at intimidation" because the Post has criticized the Senator. Wechsler demanded that the official transcript of his testimony be made public.

McCarthy wired back today that he would "extend the courtesy" of letting Wechsler examine the transcript and "make such corrections as you desire" before it is released. The telegram confirmed what McCarthy had announced earlier in the day, that the subcommittee has authorized him to release the transcript.

THE TELEGRAM READ: "Received your wire in which you still take the position that your Communist activities are immune from investigation because you are an editor."

"You are advised that there is no privileged profession insofar as our investigation is concerned. You requested that the record be made public. The committee has authorized me to make it public."

I understand from your wire that you now want to check the record before it is made public. I shall be glad to extend this courtesy to you. You may contact Mr. (Roy) Coh, chief counsel, and arrange a time to inspect the record and make such corrections as you desire."

Brewery Nags Train To Pull State Coach At Coronation Rites

LONDON, April 29 (AP) — Two of London's strongest brewery wagon horses, by name Sovereign and Royal, had their coronation rehearsal today.

Their job will be to pull the ornate coach of the speaker of the House of Commons, W. S. Morrison, to Westminster Abbey on the day of Queen Elizabeth's coronation—and for Sovereign and Royal there will be nothing to it.

Although the speaker's State coach weighs 2 1/2 tons, the two battle gray geldings are accustomed to delivering up to four tons of beer at a single haul.

But a rehearsal was considered necessary. It is desirable for the horses pulling coronation coaches to get the feel of the vehicles and one of the objects of several stunts today was to implant in the minds of Sovereign and Royal the notion that the west doors of the Abbey are a new saloon on their daily route.

TALENTED ANIMALS, the tests indicated they will deliver the speaker June 2, just as efficiently as they regularly deliver the beer.

Brewery horses are regarded as especially qualified for coronations because they are accustomed to Lafayette cruising in the gulf of busy streets, vast crowds and a lot of noise. About all Sovereign and Royal had to learn was to tolerate a footman walking beside them, and they didn't seem to mind.

THUNDERSTORMS SLASH ACROSS US SOUTHLAND

Mississippi, Louisiana Lashed By Floods, Violent Winds

NEW ORLEANS, April 29 (AP) — Violent wind-driven thunderstorms deluging up to ten inches of rain and spawning small tornadoes lashed in an eastward sweep across Louisiana and Mississippi today, driving hundreds from flooded homes and derailling a crack passenger train on washed out tracks.

The untold damage already done would obviously run into the high hundreds of thousands of dollars.

There was concern in the US Weather bureau in the two States that more damage from more storms, including possibly tornadoes, might still be in store. All New Orleans schools closed after the Weather bureau reported "a very slight possibility" of a tornado at New Orleans. Business otherwise was generally conducted without hitch. A few commercial airline flights were cancelled, but most continued on schedule.

The worst flood damage to houses was in the Alexandria, La., area. The sheriff's office reported residents of more than 250 homes temporarily left their dwellings after more than ten inches of rain in 24 hours poured water over curbs and lawns and into living rooms.

MORE THAN SEVEN inches of rain at Shreveport flooded into approximately 125 homes in one section and drove residents out. Water was waist high in some areas.

Damage to individual homes ran $1000 and more in many instances, though there was no official damage total available.

Five cars of the northbound luxury "Southern Belle" of the Kansas City Southern railroad were derailed last night about 40 miles north of Alexandria, La., by a washed out section of track.

None of the passengers required hospitalization. R. R. Sutter, the railroad's superintendent of transportation at Shreveport, reported. He said the train had 45 passengers aboard including Kansas Governor Edward F. Arn and his wife, returning home from a meeting of the Interstate Oil Compact commission at New Orleans.

Belts and Buckles Need Polishing to Last Longer

Hints and suggestions today start with some ideas on what has become a major accessory item, the belt.

In fact, many of us are becoming belt collectors just as we collect scarves, gloves and costume jewelry.

Those beautiful leather belts now so popular should be given the same good care as other leather items, since polishing adds to their lustrous appearance and to their longevity.

And those handsome belt buckles should receive good care, too, as should any other metal ornamentation. To do this give the metal parts an even coating with a thin layer of colorless nail polish and there'll be nary a hint of tarnish or a scratch.

Parkerford Girl Scouts Review Their Hopewell Jaunt and Invest Four New Members at Meeting

Discussion of last weekend's camping trip to Hopewell was still the prime concern of Parkerford Girl Scout troop 100, when it met Tuesday in Parkerford Brethren church.

During the two-day sojourn in the woods, the girls hiked to the new lake at Hopewell, walked part of the way to the tower, practiced putting up gup-lands and tying ropes.

The girls engaged in a "black-out" game of Capture the Flag, in the dark.

At the camp fire in the evening, each patrol put on a dramatic presentation.

Opening Tuesday's meeting was the candlelight ceremony in which the following girls, having passed their tenderfoot requirements, were invested into the group:

Beverly Shannahan, Carol Miller, Bonnie Frenchick and Shirley Shellenberger.

Color guards were: Nettie David-shaffer, Marsha Mauger, Nancy

Berkey and Kathryn Swavely. Busy Bee and Eager Beaver patrols made Mother's Day presents, while the Junior High patrol printed pictures taken on the camping trip.

Games and songs completed the afternoon, which closed with "Hymn of Scouting" and the scout prayer.

Others present included: Laura Sagley, Jane Rhinehart, Kay Meyer, Dorothea Ledderer, Dorothy Swavely, Joanne Somogyi, Elaine Hatfield, Edna Reuter and Sharon Lucas.

Mrs. Parker Malek was the leader.

Sniffle If You Must, But Keep It Pretty

An ugly red nose needn't be the inevitable result of a persistent case of sniffles.

First-aid action to preserve beauty when a cold strikes is to keep a small camphor ice stick in your purse and by your bedside.

Cover the skin around your nose with a thin layer of the camphor ice before you blow your nose.

This precaution will work wonders in warding off the ugly sore redness that's associated with a runny nose.

Take Pains to Package Liquids for Mailing

Pack liquids for mailing with special care.

Seal cork or cap of bottle with cellophane tape or candle or sealing wax. Tape cotton over a plastic cap.

Wrap cotton, or several thicknesses of paper napkins around bottles, or better still, enclose in a plastic bag that can be sealed with tape or adhesive plaster.

Liquor and inflammable liquids are taboo through the mails.

If brass, chromium or objects made of similar metals are being shipped, it's a good idea to spray them with one of the new plastic sprays available in hardware and variety stores.

Spraying guards against tarnishing and scratching, and since it is scarcely discernible, can be left on for permanent protection.

Wash Gloves Easy Way, Suds and Rinse on Hands

In the washbowl, the easiest way to suds any fabric gloves is right on the hands.

Use a soft complexion brush to remove stubborn grime at the fingertips or at the heel of the hand. After washing and rinsing, all fabric gloves should be rolled briefly in a towel to blot off excess water.

Cotton and nylon gloves can be smoothed and hung over a rod to dry. Rayons should be eased back into shape with the fingers.

Lay them flat to dry, or slip the thumbs over the ends of a horizontal drying rod and leave them to dry. String or crocheted gloves should be rolled into a towel; then patted back into shape and left flat to dry.

When you're blotting moisture from gloves that have contrast trim, make sure that there's a layer of towel rating the layers of glove—just to make certain that the contrasting colors do not run into each other.

No need to iron; hands take care of wrinkles.

Dodgers Defeat Reds, 6-5; Black Wins 2d

ROY CAMPANELLA

BROOKLYN, April 26 (AP)—Roy Campanella, catcher, let a pitch get away from him with two out and the bases loaded in the ninth inning today and Carl Furillo scored on the play to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 6-5 triumph over the Cincinnati Reds.

Relief ace Joe Black gained credit for the victory, his second of the season. Ray Campanella, the National League's RBI leader, clouted a two-run homer in the eighth to tie the score and set the stage for the ninth inning payoff.

Furillo opened the ninth with a double off Bubba Church who just had taken over for starter Howie Judson. After Gil Hodges was intentionally passed, pinch hitter Dick Williams advanced both men with a sacrifice. Manager Rogers Hornsby's strategy called for a free walk to Junior Gilliam, leading the bases.

All runners held when Pee Wee Reese fielded to Willard Marshall. But Furillo dashed home with the winning run and Landrith's passed ball.

White, Kell Lead Bosox to 10-4 Win

DETROIT, April 26 (AP)—Sammy White and George Kell each slammed four hits, White knocking in five runs and Kell taking the American League batting lead, to power the Boston Red Sox to a 10-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers today.

Kell hit three singles and a double in four trips to the plate. That stretched his hitting streak to ten straight games and boosted his average to .457 tops in the league. He passed New York's Gene Woodling (.436), who was idle, and Philadelphia's Dave Philley (.429), who collected only one hit at Cleveland.

White smacked three singles and a two-run homer as the Sox piled up 17 hits and handed Detroit its sixth straight defeat and eleventh in its last 12 games.

Lefty Mel Parnell, who usually beats the Tigers, was the benefactor of all this slugging, although he needed some help in the ninth. He picked up his third victory against no defeats and ran his life time record against the Tigers to 17-6. He gave up 14 hits including home runs by Bob Nieman and Steve Souchock.

Detroit used six pitchers with starter Dick Marlowe getting tagged with his second loss against no victories.

The Tiger right hander didn't even get past the first inning, as the Red Sox put together a walk and five straight singles for three runs.

Bucs Snap Losing Streak, Beat Cubs; Castiglione Hero

PITTSBURGH, April 26 (AP)—Pete Castiglione blasted a two-run clutch single in the eighth inning and the Pittsburgh Pirates snapped a five-game losing streak with a 4-3 victory tonight over the Chicago Cubs. Cal Abrams homered for the Pirates to start the three-run eighth inning rally.

Little Murry Dickson survived a two-run Chicago rally in the eighth inning to gain his second victory. Warren Hacker, the Cubs' starter, was charged with his second loss. He left the contest in the eighth and was replaced by John Klippstein.

The 35-year-old Pirates' right hander also ran into trouble in the ninth frame, giving up a walk to Toby Atwell and a double to Ed die Mikus, his fourth hit. Frank Baumholtz ended the game with a pop to short.

Hacker's triple and Mikus' double in the eighth broke up a 1-1 tie as the Cubs scored two runs on four hits.

Castiglione's single, his only hit in four trips, drove in Carlos Bernier and Johnny O'Brien. Bernier had singled and O'Brien was running for Ralph Kiner who had walked.

Pirate centerfielder Felipe Monemayor left the game after suffering an injury to his right leg sliding into home plate in the fourth.

Sanatoga Speedway to Start Night Stock Racing Saturday

The Sanatoga Speedway will present its first night race of 1963 next Saturday night at 8:30. The program includes eight events, totaling 120 laps of fast and furious stock car racing.

As an added attraction there will be another of the famous destruction derbies, to amuse and amaze the spectators, this is the auto daredevilry that is so dangerous it was banned by the police in the state of New Jersey.

The whole idea in a destruction derby is to destroy as many cars as possible without getting your own car demolished. It leads to many hair raising crashes and flips as the drivers slug it out with their cars instead of their fists.

In the racing division of the night's activities, there will be four qualifying heats of 12 laps each, two semi-finals of 15 laps apiece, a consolation of 12 laps and a big feature of 30 long hard grueling laps 120 laps of professional stock car racing by the All Stars Stock Car Racing club on this new clean, dustless, asphalt track.

Indians Top A's, 2-1; Cards Halt Phils in 11

CLEVELAND, April 29 (AP)—Earl Wynn limited Philadelphia to four hits today as the Cleveland Indians trimmed the Athletics, 2-1, and moved to within one game of the front-running New York Yankees.

It was Wynn's second victory without a loss and Alex Kellner's first defeat. Kellner had won three straight.

Both Cleveland runs were driven in by Dale Mitchell, who returned to left field as Manager Al Lopez partially junked his two-platoon outfield. Mitchell, a southpaw batter, played against the left-handed Kellner. But Bob Kennedy, a right-handed hitter, remained in right field in place of Harry Simpson, who bats left.

Mitchell hit a windblown single in the third for the Indians' first run and a liner in the fifth to give them a 2-0 lead. The A's scored their only run in the sixth.

The Indians mustered nine hits against Kellner, who has blanked the Yankees twice this season. It was the Tribe's seventh victory in eight games in Cleveland.

The Indians grabbed a 1-0 lead in the third inning when Mitchell's pop fly fell safely no more than feet beyond the infield, scoring Ray Boone from second base. Boone had singled and advanced as Bob Avila bunted safely.

Center fielder Dave Philley called for Mitchell's short fly, but a strong wind, blowing toward the plate, carried it out of his reach.

Mitchell's second single, this one to left field, scored Wynn, who had sliced a single to right field and had advanced on Boone's sacrifice.

Weather Man Says Rain for Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 29 (AP)—Meteorologist O. K. Anderson reiterated today that there is "a pretty good probability of showers around Derby time" Saturday.

He added, however, "We can't be definite at this stage."

Anderson's regular five day forecast, issued yesterday, said there would be showers Saturday or Sunday, totaling about an inch.

He said he had been besieged by long distance phone calls from all parts of the country — all asking about weather prospects for the 79th running of the Kentucky Derby, scheduled for 5:30 p. m. Pottstown daylight time.

"I'll be able to give you a pretty definite picture Friday morning," he told callers.

Doehler-Jarvis Softball League Opens Monday

The Doehler-Jarvis Softball circuit will open Monday, commissioner Frank Buttarlo announced last night, kicking off on a 45-game schedule that will include three full rounds of play for the six-team league.

The league's opening game will pit the Heat Plant against Aluminum Cleaning on the field at the new plant in Stowe. Operation will continue with regularly scheduled tries on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening, with Thursday set aside as the rain date and no games Friday.

The circuit, in its eighth year of operation, is scheduled to close its regular card on Wednesday, August 12, after which the play-offs will begin.

The first week's card: Monday—Heat Plant vs. Al. Cleaning; Tuesday—Heat Treatment vs. Salvage; Wednesday—Final Inspection vs. En. Center.

475-Foot Homer Gives Braves Win

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Milwaukee first baseman Joe Adcock crashed a tremendous 475-foot homer into the left centerfield Polo Grounds bleachers—the first batter ever to do it in a Major League game—as the Braves defeated the New York Giants, 3-2, today.

Milwaukee snapped a 2-2 tie in the ninth inning scoring the winning run on two New York errors and a wild pitch by loser Hoyt Wilhelm.

Adcock, whose record home run in the third inning followed Andy Pafko's two out single, was safe at first on Alvin Dark's high throw of his grounder in the ninth. Adcock stole second as Jack Dittmer missed a third strike and advanced to third on catcher Sam Calderone's poor throw.

Sens Beat Chisox; Porterfield Wins 1st

CHICAGO, April 29 (AP)—Pitcher Bob Porterfield, abetted by his own timely single and catcher Les Peden's first major league homer, scattered five hits to give the Washington Senators a 3-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox today.

The game actually was settled in the third inning when a walk, sacrifice and Porterfield's single to left put Washington ahead, 1-0. It was Porterfield's first victory against three losses.

Rut Peden, drafted from Los Angeles last December, hammered an eighth inning homer and Clyde Vollmer singled across the third Washington run in the ninth to wrap it up.

The defeat was charged to luckless Saul Rogovin, his third without victory. Rogovin left for a pinch hitter in the eighth after yielding only four hits. Joe Dobson finished for the Sox, giving up the fifth and last Washington hit in the ninth.

PHILADELPHIA, April 29 (AP)—An 11th inning double by third baseman Billy Johnson coupled with an error gave the St. Louis Cardinals a 1-0 victory over the first place Philadelphia Phillies tonight, despite a three-hitter turned in by loser Curt Simmons.

The game was a real pitchers' battle between Simmons, who suffered his first defeat of the season against three victories, and young Joe Presko of the Cards for the nine and a third innings. Stu Miller took over briefly for St. Louis in the 10th, staying only long enough to walk Willie Jones, then came Al Brazle, who finished for the winners.

In the St. Louis half of the 11th, Rip Repulski reached first when Jack Lohrke booted his grounder. Del Rice sacrificed Repulski to second and Johnson clouted his game-winning double along the right field line.

Simmons and Presko both hurled well enough to win any ball game. At one point, Simmons retired 18 batters in order before Stan Musial singled with one out in the seventh. Until Repulski reached second on Rice's sacrifice in the 11th, not a Cardinal player had moved past first.

Trouble Zone Cooled By Rain as Yanks Leave St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, April 29 (AP)—An April rain fell today where no man in his right mind would have dared tread last night—smack dab between the hissing New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns.

With today's game postponed, a possible continuation of last night's brawl, set aflame by a vengeful Clint Courtney of the Browns, was thwarted—at least for the present. The Yankees pulled out of town for a date in Chicago tomorrow.

The lineup in the 10th inning of a game won by the Browns, 7-6, was almost an expectable chaos. And with both teams and the fans getting into the act it easily matched the colorful and noisy fireworks usually seen at Busch Stadium following Browns' games.

Tension filled the warm Spring air from game's start. Hank Bauer slugged a two-run first inning homer for the Yanks and Mickey Mantle hit another of his fabulous home runs with two aboard in the third. But then the Browns came back to tie it up and the air hung heavy as Alie Reynolds, the Yank ace, moved in to stop the Browns on two strike outs with the bases loaded in the ninth.

THE FUSE was ignited in the top of the 10th when Gil McDougald, trapped at the plate, charged into catcher Courtney, who lost the ball and his spectacles as the winning run banged across.

As leadoff hitter for the Browns in the 10th, Courtney slammed a single off the right field screen, then careened around first and churned into shortstop Phil Rizuto.

That was it. Yanks converged on Courtney, who lost his shoe and cap, from the infield, the outfield and the dugout. Then into the Yankee gray charged the white uniforms of St. Louis and the battle was on.

Umpires and cooler Yankees and Browns heads finally separated the brawling players. But the fans sent the interruption into extra innings.

Beer bottles, pop bottles and cat calls filled the air. It took 17 minutes before Manager Marty Marion of the Browns and Umpire Bill Summers, who threatened to award the game to New York by forfeit, quieted the bottle tossers.

Referee Clarence Rosen called a halt to the lively scrap at 31 seconds of the 10th. Guiliani obviously was hurt. When the two previous rounds ended, Sammy, dazed and wobbly, walked to the wrong corner.

Chitwood has taken a three-year lease on the Hatfield track, and plans to operate stock car races every Saturday night. His first stock car

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

PLAYWRIGHT Marc Connelly ran into Producer Max Gordon in Paris, and the two lunched together. When coffee had been served, Gordon whispered something to the waiter. Marc commented, "I notice you said very little. Is that all the French you can speak?" "It's enough!" chuckled Max. "I told him to give you the check."

A carefree fellow was losing his thousands at a Las Vegas gaming table when an experimental atom bomb exploded at the government proving station nearby. The gambler, visibly shaken, groaned: "Good grief! My wife's hit town!"

Sign scrawled on the rear of huge truck helping block a busy New York street: "This truck has been in eleven accidents and ain't lost one yet."

Highest-powered ENGINE in the low-price field

plus all these other buyer benefits that only the New Chevrolet offers you!

Entirely new Styling

Strikingly new—with longer, lower lines that set a new standard of beauty for low-priced cars. Roomier, richer interiors, too.

Entirely new Powerglide*

Faster acceleration from a standing start with new automatic starting range . . . new power to pass in city traffic with new automatic passing range.

Entirely new Economy

The most important gain in economy in Chevrolet's history! Two great engines now offer even more economy than you have enjoyed with Chevrolet in the past.

Entirely new Safety

New one-piece curved windshield for greater visibility. New, sturdier construction. New, easier brake action and new Foot-Form brake pedal.

Entirely new Durability

Chevrolet's new Body by Fisher is strengthened throughout. New heavier door-posts and sills. New bracing in roof and framing.

Entirely new Power Steering*

Exclusive to Chevrolet in the low-price field! It permits you to park with finger-tip ease. You turn the wheel and the power unit does the work.

Picture above, you see the great new 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine—one of the most important advances in engine design in many and many a year.

New high compression! The 7.5 to 1 compression ratio is among the highest in the industry. Free-breathing carburetion, new aluminum pistons and many other features also play an important role in making this the most powerful engine in its field!

Yet, both the "Blue-Flame" engine (teamed with the new Powerglide automatic transmission*) and the advanced "Thrift-King" engine (in gearshift models) offer a wonderful gain in economy, too.

Why not come in and take the wheel on a demonstration drive? Why not make it soon?

*Optional at extra cost. Combination of Powerglide automatic transmission and 115-h.p. "Blue-Flame" engine available on "Top-Line" and Bel Air models only. Power Steering available on all models. (Continuation of standard equipment and trim illustrated is dependent on availability of material.)
